

I do NOT wish for cell phone users to be able to use their cell phones during a flight. It will create more problems than it is worth. I do think it is ok to use them until the door is shut and as soon as the plane touches down. Otheriwse cell phone useage during a flight is just asking for trouble. people carrying on conversations and discussions in a small area would be very disturbing and possibly lead to disputes between passengers.